Gibson®

Heating and Cooling Products

By selecting a tough Gibson heat pump, you can positively impact your home's comfort levels. These hard-working units are engineered to provide both heating and cooling power for a great value. Our heat pump units provide exceptional cooling capabilities during the summer and then are able to reverse the cooling process to provide a more economical solution to spring and fall heating. Each of our heat pumps is built to last and positively impact your wallet through lower up-front costs and efficient performance. They are also 100% checked to ensure continued quality and proper operation.
